

CONTENTS.

PROSPECTUS —Containing an account of the causes of the present Publication.	1
Notice to the Editor —By the Manager's Dog,	8
Groans of the Town —(No. 1.)—Descriptive of the Box Monopoly,	12
To Frank Anti-Many —A reply to the defence of the Managers of the Theatre, in the United States Gazette	16
Histrionic Mastix, to the Editor —A political Review of theatrical Influence	19
Groans of the Town —(No 2.)—Satire upon aspiring Actors,	29
To Glenalvon —A History of Lignum's theatrical Successes,	32
From the Manager's Dog —An account of the attempt made to discover him, by Lignum; and his harangue upon his disappointment,	37
Groans of the Town —(No. 3.)—Descriptive of that celebrated Critick, the famed Reviewer of the Columbiad; and great opponent of the Brunnonian System, Doctor Celsus,	42
The Iron Age —A Poem: recounting the advances of science, and containing certain references to the great actors of Europe and America,	46

To the Reader —History in short of the connections of Gruff, and his Chinese associate,	55
Letter —From Tshong Te, a member of the Chinese literary society to Chi Hoang Ti a fellow member,	57
Groans of the Town —(No 4.)—A relation of the prevalent practices and idle habits of the ladies of the times.	68
Censures —By Histrio-Mastix, on the new arrangements at the theatre, the usurpation of authority, and the disregard of the publick peace, by the managers thereof,	73
Groans of the Town —(No, 5.)—An Address to Lignum, upon his arbitrary dismissal of certain members of his company—his fraudulent attempts to recover damages—and his inhospitable treatment of his Indian Brethren,	84
To a Correspondent —A Note, declaratory of the determination of the confederacy, to receive no communications,	87
Variety —Collected by Senex—Note on Shakspeare Epigram from Martial, imitated.—Verses,	88
Ode I. Book I. —Advisatory,	89
A Fable —Of the Republick of Ants. An Allegory representative of the innovations at the Play-house,	91
Strictures on Satire —Religion and Love the origin of Poetry,	98
Finale —(From one of the confederacy) of the present subject of the Cynick, and descriptive of its success in overthrowing the Box Establishment,	104
Ode II. Book I. —Complimentary,	107
The Editor's Address —Containing an Account of the future plans and purposes of the Work,	109
Letter —From Miss Caroline descriptive of the Gentlemen-Fire-Screens,	114
Answer to Miss Caroline —By the Editor.	115
To Growler Gruff, Esq. —From the Manager's Dog—complaining of his exclusion from the Confederacy, and accounting for his present appearance by the artifices of the Printer's Devil,	116

CONTENTS.

iii

From the Printer's Devil —An extenuation of his artifice, in inserting the manuscripts of the managers Dog, without the Editor's knowledge,	118
By the Manager's Dog —Expressive of his regret at the impossibility of his future connections with the confederacy, and descriptive of the oratory of the Poet Pasquin,	119
Editorial —Remarks introductory of a short poem,	122
Ode III. Book I. —Lines on Hamilton's Tomb,	125
Dissertation upon Taste,	127
Review —Inchiquin, the Jesuit's Letters, during a late residence in the United States,	132
Strictures —upon the internal regulation of the Theatre, and the inattention to stage business,	140
A Poem —To our female friends,	142
History of John Jaundice, Esq. —A notorious Talker, with an account of the effects of a flippant loquacity,	145
Dialogue of the Dead and Living —Rhadamanthus, Tom Paine, St. Peter, the Devil, and John Randolph,	153
Ode IV. Book I. —Dancing,	161
Family Origin —An account of the honours of Heraldry, and suggestions of Crests and Mottos for the Nobility of this town; it being one of a Republick,	163
Theatrical —Advertisement of Blatherum Bombast & Co. with proposals for supplying actors,	170
Duplicity —Charges made by the Devil,	172
War Tacticks —of a great Nation, upon a Johnny Jump-up system, with a plan for the operation of ugly troops, and a recommendation of the Philadelphia Hussars,	175
To Robert Walsh, Esq. —in his capacity of Editor of the American Review,	181
To Mr. Gruff —A description of the utility of a small knowledge of Latin, with an account of a certain student,	186

Trial at Bar —Present—Minos, Rhadamanthus and Eacus	191
Beards and Whiskers —A dissertation upon their necessity and advantages; their consequence among the ancients; and their possible cause of a new reading of Cardinal Woolsey,	195
Essay on Hypocrisy —With an account of a pamphlet descriptive of the Calamity at Richmond,	199
A Poem —valedictory,	208

